

Interview with our Senior Consultant - Kev Ritchie

We recently caught up with Kev Ritchie, one of our Senior Consultants here at Sword Venture... what did he have to say?

Here's an example of a couple of the questions we asked:

What advice would you give someone thinking of applying to Sword venture?

It's a company that allows a wide range of opportunities for growth and values individual expression.

What is your ultimate, go to gadget or app?

My Sundial in the back garden; though as I live in Scotland I can only refer to it 3 days a year ...

Take a read to find out a little more about Kev and his experiences with Venture...
